

Week 7 NFL Preview

Broncos (3-3) @ Saints (2-4)

The Broncos face a Saints team coming off a high-scoring loss. Denver's defense will look to pressure rookie QB Spencer Rattler who is without Olave and Shaheed, while the Saints will need to contain Bo Nix and the Broncos' offense.

Key Matchup: Broncos defense vs. Spencer Rattler.

Prediction: Broncos 27-20 Saints.

Patriots (1-5) @ Jaguars (1-5) – UK Game

Both teams head to London with identical records, but rookie Drake Maye for the Patriots could give them the edge against a struggling Jaguars squad. The Jags are in their second week in England so could have that slight advantage.

Key Matchup: Drake Maye vs. Jaguars secondary.

Prediction: Patriots 24-17 Jaguars.

Seahawks (3-3) @ Falcons (4-2)

Seattle will try to bounce back against a Falcons team that boasts one of the best rushing attacks in the league. The Seahawks' rushing attack must improve after a rough game last week.

Key Matchup: Falcons run game vs. Seahawks front seven.

Prediction: Seahawks 24-27 Falcons.

Titans (1-4) @ Bills (4-2)

Will Levis and the Titans offense will face a tough Bills team led by star Josh Allen who gets a new weapon with Amari Cooper joining. Buffalo's defence could make it a long day for the Titans who have yet to get anything going on offense this season and are turning the ball over too often.

Key Matchup: Bills defence vs. Will Levis.

Prediction: Titans 13-28 Bills.

Bengals (2-4) @ Browns (1-5)

Both teams are desperate for a win. The Bengals will lean on their superstars in Burrow and Chase to get past a tough Browns defence, while the Browns hope DeShaun Watson can finally turn things around after shocking displays in recent weeks and will need to do it with Amari Cooper.

Key Matchup: Joe Burrow vs. Myles Garrett.

Prediction: Bengals 28-19 Browns.

Texans (5-1) @ Packers (4-2)

Two of the NFL's hottest teams collide as Houston's powerful offense meets Jordan Love and the Packers. Both QBs have been on fire, making this a potential shootout. This could go either way and is a must watch game.

Key Matchup: Will Anderson Jr and Danielle Hunter vs. Jordan Love.

Prediction: Texans 30-33 Packers.

Dolphins (2-3) @ Colts (3-3)

The Dolphins need a win to keep pace in their division, but the Colts' could cause problems especially the defensive line. Indianapolis will look to continue their balanced approach on offence, they will be hoping to have Taylor and Richardson back to give them more of a threat.

Key Matchup: Colts defensive line vs. Tyler Huntley.

Prediction: Colts 23-13 Dolphins.

Lions (4-1) @ Vikings (5-0)

A massive NFC North battle between the division's top two teams. The Lions are red-hot but will face their toughest test yet against the undefeated Vikings. This one looks like it will be another fantastic game in what is looking a really good group of fixtures. This could be one of the highest scoring games with both offences coming in hot.

Key Matchup: Lions offence vs. Vikings defence. The Vikings defence is causing issues for so many teams.

Prediction: Lions 27-24 Vikings. This one could go either way, tough one to call.

Eagles (3-2) @ Giants (2-4)

The Eagles are coming off a win and will look to take advantage of a struggling Giants offence who will hope to welcome back Nabers and Singletary this week. This NFC East rivalry is always competitive, but the Eagles seem poised to take control of this encounter once again.

Key Matchup: Eagles pass rush vs. Giants offensive line.

Prediction: Eagles 24-14 Giants.

Raiders (2-4) @ Rams (1-4)

Both teams are looking to bounce back from disappointing starts. The Rams have been inconsistent on offence which has been affected massively with injuries, but they hope Kupp will be ready this week and will welcome Nacua soon after, while the Raiders will need to find a spark after a tough loss and will have to do it without Davante Adams.

Key Matchup: Rams offence vs. Raiders defence.

Prediction: Raiders 16-24 Rams.

Panthers (1-5) @ Commanders (4-2)

The Commanders, led by Jayden Daniels, should have the upper hand against a struggling Panthers team. Carolina's defence will need to find a way to stop the versatile Daniels and find a way to keep pace with a free scoring Commanders team

Key Matchup: Jayden Daniels vs. Panthers defence.

Prediction: Panthers 17-33 Commanders.

Chiefs (5-0) @ 49ers (3-3)

The undefeated Chiefs take on the 49ers in what promises to be a marquee matchup. Brock Purdy will need to match Patrick Mahomes' offensive firepower for San Francisco to stand a chance. The superbowl repeat from last season promises to be a thrilling encounter and a close match once again.

Key Matchup: Patrick Mahomes vs. 49ers defensive line.

Prediction: Chiefs 31-33 49ers.

Jets (2-4) @ Steelers (4-2)

The Steelers' defence has been dominant, and they'll be tough to beat at home. The Jets will rely on their Aaron Rodgers and his recent connection with Garrett Wilson as well as a familiar face with Adams joining although a full play package might be a bit too soon.

Pittsburgh's ground game has to control the game if the rumours of Justin Fields getting benched are true.

Key Matchup: Steelers rushing attack vs. Jets defence.

Prediction: Jets 17-10 Steelers - if Fields starts I see the Steelers winning this one by 3.

Ravens (4-2) @ Bucs (4-2)

Both teams come into this game in good form. The Ravens will need to limit the explosive Buccaneers offence which has been non stop most of the season, while Lamar Jackson will look to exploit Tampa Bay's defence and seems to have found some really good support with Flowers. King Henry will need stopping as well for the Bucs to get this one under control.

Key Matchup: Derrick Henry vs. Bucs linebackers.

Prediction: Ravens 28-24 Bucs.

Chargers (3-2) @ Cardinals (2-4)

The Chargers are looking to build momentum after a good win last time out where Herbert was able to spray the ball around, but the Cardinals will hope to turn things around after a bit of a non-starter last time out. They will hope Harrison Jr can make it through concussion protocol in time to suit up in this contest.

Key Matchup: Herbert vs. Cardinals pass defence.

Prediction: Chargers 27-20 Cardinals.

Teams on a Bye

Bears and Cowboys

Biggest Scoring Game

It has the Texans @ Packers, both of these teams are on fire. The red hot offences both found good form this week. It will be a close game and a must watch in our opinion. Either side could win this one.

Potential Shock

To beat the Eagles, the Eagles have to be better than last week, and the Giants, although not being the most explosive, have kept games fairly close this year. Nabers should be back which will give them a huge boost.

Best Game to Watch

It has to be the shootout between the Lions and Vikings, two red hot teams, both will want to try and get the advantage in the division as well. It has the potential to be one of the better games of the season.

There are some other ones to mention, Texans v Packers, Ravens v Bucs, Chiefs V 49ers also promise to be really good games.
